

Prof.(Dr.) C.V.Raghuvver got his MBBS degree from Bangalore Medical College under Bangalore University in 1975 and pursued his post-graduation at the prestigious JIPMER in Pondicherry, acquiring his Diploma in Clinical Pathology in 1978 and M.D. in Pathology in 1979 both under Madras University. After a short stint at JIPMER, Prof.Raghuvver left for greener pastures to accept overseas assignments in two Universities abroad – initially for 4 years at University of ILORIN in Nigeria and later for 2 more years at Al-Arab Medical University in Benghazi, Libya. It was in 1986 that Prof.Raghuvver returned to India and joined the prestigious Kasturba Medical College under Manipal University where he worked for nearly 25 years and ultimately attained the coveted position of the Dean of that college. During his long sojourn in Kasturba Medical College, Prof.Raghuvver, a hard core academician honed his academic skills, practised pathology diligently and administered a large institution with elan.

Subsequently in the year 2009 Prof.Raghuvver was deputed by Manipal University to teach at the American University of Antigua in the Caribbean which he did with dedication and determination. His return from the West Indies in May 2009 was appropriate when he was absorbed into the Melaka Manipal Medical College, a twinning programme under Manipal University through an MoU signed with Government of Malaysia. Thus Prof.Raghuvver had taught and learnt in five different curricula. When he finally decided to leave Manipal, Prof.Raghuvver was dragged by a fledgling Medical College at Surathkal where he held dual positions of the Dean and Medical Director of Srinivas Institute of Medical Sciences and Research.

After going through an exasperating 18 months, Prof.Raghuveer was invited to join Yenepoya University where he was initially appointed as Director of Post Graduate Studies and Research and later as the Registrar of the University for 3 ½ years. He demitted the office of the Registrar on 9th July 2016 to join Sri Devaraj Urs Academy of Higher Education and Research on 16th July 2016 as its third Vice Chancellor.

Prof.Raghuveer brings with him rich academic and administrative experience. Academically he has been a supervisor for not less than 7 Ph.D. Scholars and as many as 34 M.D. (Pathology) post graduate students. He has 165 publications and over 250 Conferences and CME presentations to his credit in Pathology, Medical Education and Hospital Administration. He is a much sought after speaker at various fora. The fellowships he has been conferred with, the honors that he has received speak for themselves.

Prof.Raghuveer is married to Dr.Prabha Adhikari, Professor of Medicine at Kasturba Medical College, Mangalore. They have a son Dr.Pracheth who is an Assistant Professor in Community Medicine at Yenepoya Medical College and a daughter Priya who is a Computer Software Engineer at Bangalore. Prof.Raghuveer has a penchant for Carnatic music and has had special training in Public Speaking. He has a flair for learning new languages.

Prof.Raghuveer has enormous dreams to make Sri Devaraj Urs Academy of Higher Education and Research one of the best Universities in the Country.
